Become a sponsor! Partner with us for the AI² Summit, the premier gathering of academic leaders, educators, education technologists, and innovators committed to transforming artificial intelligence education. This year's summit will focus on strategic integration of AI across higher education institutions—from leadership to classroom applications.

The AI² Summit is a collaborative space for visionaries shaping the future of education on their campus, and sponsors play a crucial role by offsetting some summit costs, adding credibility to our event while also having an opportunity to network with our attendees. A portion of your valuable contribution will fund student travel and registration so that the summit offerings are available to new talent that will be entering an AI-driven workforce. We offer several levels of engagement and hope we can count on your support.

WHO ATTENDS?

Visionary academic leaders, faculty members, technologists, industry partners, and policymakers, leave with strategies, tools, and partnerships to lead institutions confidently into the AI era.
